Greetings all. Toronto Tower Power Toronto's much anticipated next meeting takes place one week tomorrow on Wednesday, March 10th at 7:30pm in the Waterside Room at Windward Co-operative at 34 Little Norway Crescent (SW of Bathurst and Queen's Quay).

At the March 10th meeting, we'll hear presentations about the ambitious greening initiatives undertaken by condos and co-ops here in Toronto.

For example, Beata Domanska of the Hugh Garner Co-op will show us pictures of the Co-op's green roof, efficient lighting, low-flow aerators on all faucets/showers, dual-flush toilets, high-efficiency boiler, solar thermal, insulating under the radiators, digital thermostats and mechanical improvements. She'll also give us an idea of the costs and paybacks of each of these initiatives, and what projects lie ahead.

Chris Madill from the Riviera Condos on Queens Quay West, will describe their new building automation system, which monitors the temperature and pressure of air and water in their buildings and then throttles output to meet that demand. He'll also describe various other greening initiatives he and his green committee have undertaken.

These are but the two first two presenters. Be prepared to be impressed by the many possibilities they put before us! As such, it will be an important meeting that members of your condo and co-op boards can't afford to miss.

As always, please share this invitation with all that might be interested. (If they are interested but cannot attend, encourage them to send me their name and email address, so that I can be sure to invite them to forthcoming meetings.)

Looking forward to a stimulating meeting on Wednesday, March 10th.

Cheers,

Tim Grant and David Booz, Co-chairs, Toronto Power Toronto
